

SORBONNE NOUVELLE: PLACING ARTS & HUMANITIES AT THE HEART OF SOCIETY

La Sorbonne, the Sorbonne
Nouvelle's head offices

The Sorbonne Nouvelle's future main campus in the 12th district of Paris

Campus Censier

The history of the Sorbonne Nouvelle dates back to the middle of the 12th-century and the birth of the Université de Paris, one of the seven oldest universities in the world. Over the centuries, the Université de Paris and its internationally recognised Collège de Sorbonne have become synonymous. And it was in the 1880s that the new Sorbonne renovation project transformed the campus into the Haussmannian palace dedicated to the Humanities and the Sciences that we know today. Following the reorganisation of the Université de Paris in 1970, the Sorbonne Nouvelle emerged as an autonomous university specialised in the Arts & Humanities ranked 1st in France and 25th in the world for Modern Languages (QS 2018).

The Sorbonne Nouvelle offers an extensive range of bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees in the Arts & Humanities, most notably in the fields of Languages, Literature, Film Studies, Theatre Studies, Communication and Media Studies.

Our University prides itself in its internationally recognised research in contemporary humanities.

UNIVERSITÉ
SORBONNE
NOUVELLE
PARIS 3

Membre de l'Université Sorbonne Paris Cité

PREPARING TODAY'S GRADUATES FOR TOMORROW

The Sorbonne Nouvelle offers degrees in:

- Film & Audio-Visual Studies
- Theatre Studies
- Communication & Media Studies
- Journalism
- Creative Industries
- Language Sciences & Language Pedagogy
- Languages & Literatures: Afrikaans, Arabic, Basque, Catalan, Chinese, Dutch, English, French, Finnish, Galician, German, Hungarian, Hebrew, Italian, Persian, Portuguese, Romanian, Sanskrit, Spanish, etc.
- Comparative literature
- Translation and Interpreting
- European and International Studies, Latin American Studies

These qualifications provide a large range of recruitment opportunities including cinema and audio-visual industries, communication and journalism, creative industries, performing arts, publishing and documentation, teaching and research, theatre, translation and interpreting. The Sorbonne Nouvelle also offers a perfect platform for students interested in European and International careers.

Drama and Theatre Studies

Cultural Journalism

Student Experience

Since 2014 Paris has been consistently ranked Europe's best student city (QS) and we take pride in the fact that our approach to the student experience has fully contributed to this. With the city of Paris as its campus, life at the Sorbonne Nouvelle thrives on its interaction with the wider community. This provides a unique experience for student enterprise, student initiatives and volunteering opportunities.

The Sorbonne Nouvelle is a member of the Centre for Entrepreneurship and Innovation PEPITE Créaj-IDF. Our student entrepreneur programmes allow our students to create their own jobs, acquire forward-thinking employability skills and work towards our graduate diploma in entrepreneurship.

Academic success and employability for all of our students are at the heart of our learning experience. And, of course, our community has direct access to the world's cultural capital and to outstanding sports facilities.

The Sorbonne Nouvelle includes 3 faculties, one school and one institute. Our 3 faculties (or UFR - Unités de Formation et de Recherche, literally 'education and research units') are organised into academic departments.

Faculty of Arts & Media

UFR Arts & Médias

4 departments:

- Communication and Media Studies (Institut de la communication et des médias)
- Creative Industries (Médiation culturelle)
- Film & Audio-Visual Studies (Cinéma et audiovisuel)
- Theatre Studies (Institut d'études théâtrales)

Faculty of International Cultures, Languages & Literatures

UFR Langues, Littératures, Civilisations et Sociétés Étrangères

7 departments:

- Applied Languages (Langues Etrangères Appliquées)
- Arabic, Hebrew, Indian and Iranian Studies (Etudes arabes, hébraïques, indiennes et iraniennes)
- English Studies (Monde Anglophone)
- European Studies (Institut d'Etudes européennes)
- German Studies (Etudes germaniques)
- Iberian and Latin American Studies (Études Ibériques et Latino-Américaines)
- Italian and Romanian Studies (Etudes Italiennes et Roumaines)

Faculty of Literature, Linguistics & Didactics

UFR Littérature, Linguistique, Didactique

4 departments:

- Applied Linguistics and General Phonetics (Institut de linguistique et phonétique générales et appliquées)
- Comparative Literature (Littérature Générale et Comparée)
- French and Latin Literatures and Linguistics (Littérature et Linguistique Françaises et Latines)
- The Teaching of French as a Foreign Language (Didactique du Français Langue Etrangère)

School of Translation & Interpreting Studies

École Supérieure des Interprètes et des Traducteurs (ESIT)

Institute of Latin American Studies

Institut des Hautes Études de l'Amérique Latine (IHEAL)

Distance Learning

Our university's tradition in distance learning dates back to the 1930s. Today, the university's digital gateway, iSorbonne, offers access to our virtual learning environment, communication tools, office software as well as multimedia resources such as Sorbonne Nouvelle TV and Radio Sorbonne Nouvelle. You can choose from 15 full distance learning qualifications ranging from diplomas to undergraduate and postgraduate degrees.

RESEARCH

The Sorbonne Nouvelle's learning experience is based on internationally renowned research in contemporary humanities. The 'Sorbonne' name attracts researchers and students alike from all around the world. Our university has more than 680 academics working across 27 different research units. We organise over one hundred and fifty conferences and study days every year.

With 5 Doctoral Schools to choose from, our 1,130 doctoral candidates work in close partnership with the university's internationally recognised research-active faculty.

Professional development programmes also allow doctoral candidates to be employed in development projects run by private companies and non-profit organisations.

Sorbonne Nouvelle Library Services

The Sorbonne Nouvelle houses such prestigious intercollegiate libraries as the Bibliothèque Sainte-Geneviève and the Bibliothèque Sainte-Barbe as well as the Central University Library. 24/7 and from anywhere on the planet, Virtuose+ allows all of our students and staff access to our extensive online collections.

The Sorbonne Nouvelle's recently renovated research centre, the Maison de la recherche, is situated next to the Panthéon and houses dedicated facilities open to all of our researchers.

Labex EFL
– Empirical Foundations of Linguistics Excellence Laboratory – at the annual national Science Festival Fête de la Science.

University Press

The Presses Sorbonne Nouvelle furthers our commitment to disseminating excellence in research and education with a catalogue that includes over 550 individual and collective works.

CAMPUS LIFE

We are fully devoted to providing our students and colleagues with a great Sorbonne experience. Recognised nationally for our commitment to promoting student life we offer our student community the opportunity to engage in a large number of student societies, to undertake voluntary work in the Paris community, and to participate in the year-round campus life events and activities.

The Sorbonne Nouvelle views its student population as a creative force and actively fosters young talent. Through such programmes as Acte & Fac or the university's partnership with the Festival of Ideas Paris we work with young artists to help them develop their creative and professional potential.

A contre sens: the annual student theatre festival organised by ATEP3.

The Sorbonne Nouvelle prides itself in having the biggest university box office in France. We offer reduced rates for both students and staff to events held in over 80 venues across Paris.

Sport and Exercise at the Sorbonne Nouvelle allows students and staff to engage in a programme of over 30 coach-led classes. The Sorbonne Nouvelle is also a member of France's biggest university sports federation. Whether you want to compete at the highest level or simply want to have some fun, there are plenty of opportunities to keep fit!

FACTS & FIGURES:

16,500 students, including 29% international students

680 academic staff and 670 support staff

1,130 doctoral candidates, including 55% international PhD students

Over 70 Major/Minor combinations at bachelor's level

49 master's degrees and 13 university diplomas

18 distance learning courses

Over 478 cooperation agreements, including 328 Erasmus agreements

1st university in France and 25th in the world for Modern Languages (QS 2018)

Les Départementales: the Sorbonne Nouvelle's annual general knowledge quiz involving student teams representing the university's academic departments.

INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION

With some 478 international agreements, worldwide cooperation is one of our university's key priorities. The Sorbonne Nouvelle is actively involved in collaborations and partnerships across the world including North and South America, Europe, Asia, and the Middle East. As a member of the university system Sorbonne Paris Cité we have permanent international offices in Berlin, Singapore, Sao Paulo and Buenos Aires.

We believe that student and teacher mobility is of vital importance in an increasingly internationalised world. With 328 Erasmus agreements and 150 international agreements, the Sorbonne Nouvelle allows over 1,000 students to participate in study exchanges each year. From international degrees to international teaching and research assignments, the Sorbonne Nouvelle is a major influence on the world stage in the Arts & Humanities.

Contact us

Université Sorbonne Nouvelle – Paris 3

International Affairs Office
17 rue de la Sorbonne – 75005 Paris
international@sorbonne-nouvelle.fr

www.univ-paris3.fr